

Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) will be of Growing Importance for RWE

- Existing
- Under construction
- Proposed

- LNG offers customers flexibility and alternative supply sources.
- LNG offers producers the opportunity to capture best market price on a global basis (something that pipeline gas does not always do).
- LNG markets continue to be clustered regionally around the Americas, Europe and North East Asia, but growing interaction offers increased opportunities to those that control LNG production, shipping and regasification.